To Whom Concerned:

Okfuskee County does not require any licenses or building permits.

Okfuskee County has no zoning requirements for land situated in the section, township, and range. However, land that is situated within a subdivision, a town, or a city, will be subject to the covenants of that respective area. Subdivision covenants, if any, may be verified in the Okfuskee County Clerk's office.

A road crossing permit is required if crossing a county road or county right-of-way with any type of pipe or line.

Okfuskee County does not issue/require a certificate of occupancy.

You may contact the Vicki Atchley at (866) 855-3452 or addressubgok@gmail.com to obtain a 911 address.

Residents/businesses of Okfuskee County are subject to any and all laws, permits, rules, and regulations of the State of Oklahoma.

Any further information may be directed to your respective County Commissioner.

Sincerely,

James Yandell
